Excitement Falls Upon CBS Studio Center!

By Judi Miller

A new, exciting fall season is underway, so be careful because Big Brother will be watching as you stay Up All Night in Malibu Country to see whether Whitney will be Hot in Cleveland or if she'll get together with the Last Man Standing.

As for me, I know I will find Entertainment Tonight now that I am Happily Divorced and training to be a CSI in New York. While back east, I might visit Pennsylvania because I hear Its Always Sunny in Philadelphia this time of year. I'm sure their Parks and Recreation department can help me plan some fun outdoor events.

And hey, if you Friend Me on Facebook we can walk the walk, and talk The Talk like an Insider about all the latest Hollywood gossip, and find out how Robert Pattison and Bret Michaels are dealing with The Exes.

Okay, I've got to run now, because my Brothers-in-Law are acting like they're the Kings of Van Nuys and are about to get into some trouble!

Grand Opening of the Radford Art Walk

By Beth Dymond, President Studio City Beautification Association

Travel north on Radford from the CBS parking structure, cross the bridge at the Los Angeles River, then look towards your right. CBS Studio Center, in partnership with the Studio City Beautification Association (SCBA), has created a sculpture walk that extends a quarter of a mile, to where it terminates at the Tujunga Wash and Moorpark Street.

Michael Klausman, President of CBS Studio Center, stored the sculptures on the CBS lot until he and sculptor Karl Johnson could find a permanent place to display them. At the grand opening Michael reminded the audience that, "SCBA is the perfect vehicle to bring together the multiple diverse interests of Studio City."

Thirty years ago SCBA was formed with the mission to make Studio City the most beautiful residential and shopping area in Los Angeles, in fact a park like urban forest! Councilmember Paul Krekorian's commentary opened with the statement, "mission accomplished!"

The designer of the garden was SCBA Board member Francesca Corra of Dirt Diva Designs. Francesca donated her time and talent to the Art Walk as she has to other Studio City beautification projects. Karl Johnson donated his sculptures and both he and Francesca supervised the project to make the Art Walk a reality.

The SCBA received contributions to this project from CBS Studio Center, Studio City Residents Association, Studio City Chamber of Commerce Foundation, Studio City Farmers Market, Los Angeles Office of Community Beautification, and various private entities.

The Art Walk may be "mission accomplished" but SCBA continues its work to beautify Studio City and is moving forward on four new capital improvement projects.

JOE'S GYM

If you are looking to tone up, lose body fat, build muscle, reduce stress, or simply create inner balance, Joe's Gym is the place for you! The gym is located in the basement of Stage 19 and membership is offered exclusively to CBS Studio Center employees and tenants.

If you would like information regarding how to join Joe's Gym, please call Marsha at x5099.
